The Daily Standard.

Some time ago our young friend Neal W. Elliott left at our office an old document, with the following caption:

"Poll Book of an election held in the township of Milton, in the county of Jackson, on the seventh day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four. Newel Braley, John Elliott and Asa Dudley judges, and Jacob Westfall Jr. and Stephen Dunham clerks of said election were severally sworn as the law directs, previous to their entering on the duties of their respective offices."

The certificate shows that there were 70 votes cast. We give names of the several candidates, and the vote which each received.

It will be observed that the struggle for office was quite as earnest forty years ago as it is now. The office of Fence Viewer, (long since abolished) was considered the lowest office created by Statute, yet there were 7 candidates for the three places; but none of them ran a very strong race.

Judge Longbon read a history of the M. E. Church in Jackson, at the meeting last Sunday. It is exceedingly interesting. We will commence its publication in the STANDARD in two weeks. It will run through five or six numbers of the paper.

If the news boys fail to deliver the Daily to any of our subscribers, they will please call at the office, or at Starkey's Book Store.

THE FIRST FAIR.

The first Agricultural Fair ever held in Jackson county was held October 3d and 4th, 1855, near where the brick-yard is now located, and very near the present residence of Charles C. Jones, on Portsmouth Street, opposite the planing mill. That out-lot, of four acres, was then owned by Abraham French, and was a thick wood land, containing oak trees of considerable size. We attended that Fair, as we have every one since that time.

The STANDARD of August 30, 1855, contained the following editorial:

"AGRICULTURAL FAIR.
"There will be an Agricultural Fair held in this county on the third and fourth days of October next, which we hope our farmers and others will take due interest in, and endeavor to attend. Let Jackson county not be behind her neighbors, in the improvement of her stock and crops—she can boast of as good agricultural land as any county in the State, and also of her mineral resources, Iron, Coal and Salt. Call at this office and procure a copy of the Rules and Regulations which have just been printed by order of the Jackson Agricultural Society."

The STANDARD of October 11, 1855, contained a long editorial about the Fair, but principally bragging about the undeveloped mineral resources of Jackson county. It also contained the statement that Wm. T. McClintick Esq., of Chillicothe, had delivered an able agricultural address.

On the 25th of October, 1855, the Premium List of this first Fair was published, as follows:

H. C. MESSENGER, Secy.

We met Peter Hoop Sen. on the street the other day. He has entirely recovered from the effects of his broken leg. He is 75 years of age, and is nearly as lively as he was thirty years ago, when we first became acquainted with him, when he was building the old steam mill, south of Oak Hill. Mr. Hoop is a native of Shenandoah county, Virginia. He was raised in Highland county, and was married in Adams county, and resided there for many years. Mr. Hoop has always been an honest, upright business man. Three of his sons now reside here, his youngest son, Peter Hoop Jr., being one of the owners of Globe Furnace.

We called on Philip Vest and wife last Friday. They are natives of Buckingham county, Virginia. He was born in the year 1800, and is 73 years of age. She was born in 1805. They have been married 53 years. Their youngest child is Mrs. John Swanson, of this place. These old folks came to Jackson in the year 1840, and have resided here ever since. The old man has not been able to work for the past five years. He is quite helpless, and rather childish. He is a cooper by trade, and made flour barrels for many years for the Brick Mill in this place. Mother Vest is quite cheerful, and was engaged in sewing when we were there. She is a good, Christian lady. She said she had sewed for some of the business houses in Jackson for twenty years, serving them faithfully, but now the proprietors seem to have forgotten her. She still supports herself and her aged companion by sewing, and they reside in their own little home on Church Street.

Rev. C. H. Warren was at this place from Saturday to Monday. His first year as a Methodist preacher was on the old Jackson circuit, in the year 1842. The circuit then embraced about 400 miles, and required four weeks to get around it. Mr. Warren was at Jackson from 1855 to 1857, he being the first preacher here after Jackson was made a station. He is a good, kind hearted man. He has been at Nelsonville, Athens county, for the past three years.
